HSBC HANG SENG TECH UCITS ETF

Marketing communication | Monthly report 30 April 2026 | HSTC LN | HKD

This product is based overseas and is not subject to UK sustainable investment labelling and disclosure requirements.

Investment objective

The Fund aims to track as closely as possible the returns of the Hang Seng TECH Index (the "Index"). The Fund will invest in or gain exposure to shares of companies which make up the Index.

Investment strategy

The Index is made up of the 30 largest technology companies in Hong Kong SAR, as defined by the Index provider. The Fund will be passively managed and will aim to invest in the shares of the companies in generally the same proportion as in the Index. However, there may be circumstances when it is not possible or practical for the Fund to invest in all constituents of the Index. It may also invest in companies outside the Index, but which are expected to provide similar performance and risk characteristics to certain Index constituents. If the Fund cannot invest directly in the companies that constitute the Index, it may gain exposure by using other investments such as depositary receipts, derivatives or funds. The Fund may invest in money market instruments. The Fund may invest up to 10% in other funds, including HSBC funds. The Fund may invest up to 35% in securities from a single issuer during exceptional market conditions. The Fund may invest up to 10% in total return swaps and contracts for difference. See the Prospectus for a full description of the investment objectives and derivative usage.

Main risks

- The value of investments and any income from them can go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amount originally invested
- Investing in assets denominated in a currency other than that of the investor's own currency exposes the value of the investment to exchange rate fluctuations
- Where overseas investments are held the rate of currency exchange may cause the value of such investments to go down as well as up.

Risk disclosures

- The value of investible securities can change over time due to a wide variety of factors, including but not limited to: political and economic news, government policy, changes in demographics, cultures and populations, natural or human-caused disasters etc.
- The Fund may invest in Emerging Markets, these markets are less established, and often more volatile, than developed markets and involve higher risks, particularly market, liquidity and currency risks.
- The Fund may be concentrated in a limited number of securities, economic sectors and/or countries and as a result, may be more volatile and have a greater risk of loss than more broadly diversified funds.
- To the extent that the Fund seeks to replicate index performance by holding individual securities, there is no guarantee that its composition or performance will exactly match that of the target index at any given time ("tracking error").
- Derivatives may be used by the Fund, and these can behave unexpectedly. The pricing and volatility of many derivatives may diverge from strictly reflecting the pricing or volatility of their underlying reference(s), instrument or asset.
- Investment Leverage occurs when the economic exposure is greater than the amount invested, such as when derivatives are used. A Fund that employs leverage may experience greater gains and/or losses due to the amplification effect from a movement in the price of the reference source.
- Where overseas investments are held the rate of currency exchange may cause the value of such investments to go down as well as up.
- Further information on the potential risks can be found in the Key Information Document (KID) and/or the Prospectus or Offering Memorandum.
